Marketplace is where agents and brokerages can find everything else they need for their entire real estate experience. Purpose-built in collaboration with the real estate industry and the best and brightest in the tech world, Marketplace features a variety of upstream and downstream services that agents and brokerages can plug and play into their Lone Wolf transaction solution for an unrivaled customer experience.

MEET OUR MARKETPLACE PARTNERS

And this is just the tip of the iceberg. Every month, we're adding new partners to our Marketplace to cover every stage of a transaction.

Get clients moving. Literally.

Right from Transactions (zipForm Edition), agents and brokerages can send clients branded invitations to a concierge service that saves them months (or years) of updating addresses. Everything happens in minutes—at no cost to the agent, brokerage, or client.

The right tenant, the right way.

With instant access to tenant screening reports right in their transaction management, agents get a new lease on leasing. Agents can start screening applicants in no time, attach reports to specific transactions, and limit their liability all in one place.

Help agents become household names.

Give agents the power to build local targeted ad campaigns right from their Transactions solution with this integration. From promoting listings to creating brand awareness, agents can create custom ads to find new clients—and keep them coming back for more.

So long, paper checks. Hello, digital.

When digital transactions meet secure digital trust/escrow, the home buying becomes that much easier for clients. This integration brings earnest money deposits into Transactions, so clients can submit directly to the transaction from anywhere—even the comfort of their couch.

TITLE INSURANCE

Coming soon to a transaction near you.

This one-of-a-kind plug-in means soon, agents will be able to manage title ordering right from their transaction management. Agents can submit orders, communicate with title agents, and track received documents—all within a transaction.

Full disclosure right in a transaction.

Agent dealing with a home in a natural hazard zone? This upcoming addition means agents can order the right disclosure forms from within a transaction—and it automatically fills in all the fields with information from the transaction.

Agents: Manage your money—your way.

With on-demand advances delivered within an hour, agents can access their commissions when they need them, even before the sale closes. Plus, automatic repayment at closing means no extra bills rolling in after the fact.

Agent expenses that track themselves.

Gone are the days of manually tracking expenses and claiming deductions. This upcoming integration pulls information from transaction management to give agents an automatic way to track everything from expenses to mileage—plus, tax estimates and finance tips included.

Agents: Give clients a 360° view.

If a picture's worth a thousand words, imagine how much a virtual tour is worth. With this integration, agents can give clients a full view of a listing through high-quality virtual tours, 3D floorplans, 360° photos, and more—created using their own pictures.

Young Alfred

Help clients get the best rates on home insurance.

Most clients want to find the best rates on home insurance—but don't have time for comparison shopping. With this integration, agents can help clients compare policies from over 40 carriers across 50 states without ever picking up a phone. Plus, custom branding for agents means they establish themselves as the ultimate resource.

Sellers Shield

Home Sale Protection

Keep clients protected at every stage of the sale.

Help agents protect their sellers with guided form applications for seller disclosures, directly from Transactions. Plus, with legal protection for sellers after the fact, agents can make sure they're protected for years to come.

Perfect closing gifts every time.

Help agents build rapport and attract referrals with an automated way to find and send personalized closing gifts their clients will love—right from within Transactions. Plus, agents can add custom branding to all their gifts for that extra personal touch.
